Additional information about the Princess Margareta wine collection: From the early days of 1990, when Her Royal Highness Margareta of Romania returned among the Romanians fresh out of the sad communist era and to this day, the Crown Princess has become a symbol for all values forgotten or ignored in the previous half-century - honesty, respect compared to tradition, passion for excellence, modesty, volunteerism, humanism and charity. Through his daily actions, in all these years, Her Royal Highness has been a pioneer in the formation of a responsible elite, which would lay the foundations of Romania's moral rebirth.

In September 2010, the "Domeniul Coroanei" Segarcea officially became the supplier of the Royal House of Romania again, thus regaining the place its establishment by His Majesty King Carol I, was intended for. At the request of Her Royal Highness, Princess Margareta, we created two special wines, in limited editions. We tried to include in them, both the gratitude for the history that linked our destiny to the Royal House of Romania and the promise that we will never deviate from the standards of excellence that have consecrated to this day, the name of the Segarcea vineyard. The history lesson that the Segarcea vineyard shows to the world every day is that a really well-done work does not fall upon the passage of time, nor upon the influence of people. Even in the darkest times of communist nationalization and collectivization, the name Segarcea remained a landmark of quality, as desired by its founder, His Majesty, King Carol I. In recognition, today's company remains dedicated to the values born at the same time with the Law for the Crown Domain, on June 10th (22nd) 1884: excellence, tradition, love and respect for the land.
